NOW FOR GERMANY TO SAY WHAT FUTURE RELATIONS WITH AMERICA SHALL BE

Final Word on How Uncle Sam Will Regard Further Violation of Rights.

NOTE GONE TO BERLIN

Next Step Depends Upon the Reception Accorded Document in Germany.

Washington, July 22.—The United States government, before determining the next step in its general diplomatic policy, will for a brief period await indications from official quarters in Berlin as to the reception of the new note warning Germany that the loss of American lives through further violation of neutral rights would be regarded as "unfriendly."

The note, started on its way to Berlin late last night, possibly will be delivered by Ambassador Gerard tomorrow. It will be given out by the State Department for publication in Saturday morning newspapers.

Everywhere in official quarters it was pointed out today that this document speaks the final word on how the United States government would regard further transgressions of its rights.

The general trend of comment was that the repetition of such a disaster as befell the Lusitania would mean the convening of Congress by President Wilson for consideration of the action to be taken.

In the event that the status quo is maintained, however, and there are indications through official or unofficial channels that German submarines in future will conform to the rules of international law in saving the lives of American on unresisting merchantmen, President Wilson will take up very soon the situation that has arisen with Great Britain over interference with American commerce by the Allies.

Note to Britain Next.

For several weeks a note has been practically completed almost ready to be sent to the British government reiterating the protest against deviations from the international law in the operations of the order in council against commerce with Germany.

The note has not been sent because President Wilson has been unwilling to give the impression in Berlin that the controversy between the United States and Germany in any way could be conditioned on the progress of the American government's negotiations with other belligerents. It became known today, however, that if there are indications that the new American note to Germany is received in a friendly spirit and there appears no intention further to violate neutral rights on the high seas, the new protest to Great Britain would be despatched possibly within the next fortnight.

Data is being gathered at the State Department, but the new note possibly will not deal to any extent with specific instances, contending chiefly for the general principles involved with renewed insistence on modifications in the order in council to conform with what the United State regards as the accepted rules of international law. The recent filing of a legal caveat announcing that orders in council and British municipal law do not affect the rights of American citizens under international law was the first step, in the policy which the United States is pursuing to obtain acquiescence in its point of view.

Interest centered for the most part today in official and diplomatic quarters on the nature of the new note to Germany. Sufficient of its contents had become generally known to cause widespread comment on the apparently determined position taken by the Uited States.

Nothing More as to Orduna.

No progress has been made to the investigation of the case of the British liner Orduna, at which a German submarine is alleged to have fired a torpedo without warning. No evidence has been received to establish beyond doubt that the torpedo was fired, and until this is available it was said in official quarters the case possibly would not be pressed. None of the American passengers were awake at the time the attack was made and the State Department, it is understood, is reluctant to act on what might be construed as partisan testimony, such as the statements of the officers and crew of a British vessel. As yet no report has been asked from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin because a prima facie case has not been established.

MISS ADDAMS IS GIVEN A WARM WELCOME HOME.

Tells Crowd That Spirit of Hate Still Rules in Europe.

Chicago, July 22.—Jane Addams was welcomed home tonight by 3,000 friends and acquaintances. She told them from the stage of the auditorium that the spirit of hate still rules the warring nations of Europe, but that there are evidences of a softening influence. She detailed efforts made by women who attended the peace gathering at The Hague to pave the way for ending the great war.

"In all our travels," Miss Addams said, "we were unable to find who it was that started the war. Men high in the councils of the respective nations deplored the conflict, deprecated the sacrifice of human life, regretted the sorrow and suffering, but all were sure it could not be helped, and that the result would be for the betterment of Europe."

Durban, Africa, July 22 (via London).—The crew of the Peninsular and Oriental Line steamship Benalla recently reported afire in the Indian ocean, has succeeded in getting the flames under control, according to a message received here today.

AERONAUTIC EXPERTS FORM ORGANIZATION

Will Co-operate in Projects of Navy Board.

Society Was Organized at the Request of Edison—Foremost Aeronautic Engineers of Country Compose Membership.

New York, July 22.—The American Society of Aeronautic Engineers, composed of the foremost aeronautic experts and engineers in the country, has just been organized at the request of Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the advisory board of the navy, it was announced here tonight. The new society will co-operate with the navy board in many new projects that are soon to be taken up.

Officers selected were: President, Henry A. Wise Wood; vice presidents, Orville Wright, Glenn H. Curtiss, W. Verling Burgess, Elmer Sperry, Peter Cooper Hewitt and John Hays Hammond, Jr.; treasurer, Clarke Thompson, and secretary, Lawrence B. Sperry. The directors include Thomas S. Baldwin, Henry Woodhouse, Joseph A. Steinmetz and Blon J. Arnold.

"Four additional directors," an announcement says, "will be army and navy aeronautic engineers, to be selected and appointed by the Army and Navy departments. The Smithsonian Institution, the Weather Bureau and the Bureau of Standards, each are invited to appoint one director, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Michigan are invited to do the same."

The society was not among the leading eight scientic societies asked by Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, earlier in the week to select two members each to become members of the navy advisory board.

MALIK FACES TRIAL.

Austrian Who Wrote Threatening Letter to President Wilson.

New York, July 22.—The trial of Rudolf Malik, an Austrian salesman, on the charge of having written a letter to President Wilson, began today in Federal court here.

The technical charge in the indictment, operating a scheme to defraud by means of the mails, is based on the fact that in the letter to the President, there was demanded an indemnity of $200, because of Malik's enforced detention in the United States and he threatened if the money was not forthcoming he would commit "a political crime."

A second indictment charges that in a postcard, mailed to the consul general of Austro-Hungary, Malik threatened to shoot everybody in the consul's office. The government claims this is the "political crime," which the defendant referred to in the Wilson letter.

Malik denied writing the letter and the postcard.

AN AERIAL TORPEDO BOAT PROJECTED FOR U. S. NAVY

For Delivering Air Attacks on Ships in Protected Harbors.

Washington, July 22.—An aerial torpedo boat for attack on ships in protected harbors is projected in patents just ended, it was learned today, to Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, now attached to the Navy War College, but formerly aid for operations to Secretary Daniels.

The plan contemplates equipping a monster aeroplane similar to a number now under construction in this country for the British government with a Whitehead torpedo of regulation type.

Swooping down at a distance of five sea miles from the object of attack, the air craft would drop its deadly passenger into the water just as it would have been launched from a destroyer The impact sets the torpedo's machinery a motion and it is off at a speed of more than 40 knots an hour toward the enemy ship.

Admiral Fiske believes that the flying torpedo boat would make it possible to attack a fleet even without a land-locked harbor. The range of the newest navy torpedoes is 10,000 yards and even the older types will be effective at 7,000 yards.

Carried on a huge aeroplane, the 2,000 pound weapon would be taken over harbor at an altitude safe from gunfire. Once over the bay ,the machine would glide down to within ten or twenty feet of the water, the torpedo rudders would be set and it would be dropped to do its work while the aeroplane rose and sped away.

Aeroplanes to carry a tons of dead weight have been perfected by several countries.

Since the aerial torpedo, plan was advanced, reports have come that German engineers were at work with a somewhat similar scheme. It is proposed to drop from aeroplanes a torpedo that can be guided by radio impulses during its fall and sent with absolute certainty to its mark.

COTTON POOL FOR HANDLING EXPORTS

Has Been Informally Proposed to State Department.

FOR AN EQUAL TRADE

Agreement Would be Made With British Government—Purpose is to Distribute Proportionately Among Producers.

Washington, July 22.—Formation of a great American cotton pool to handle exports to Europe, under an agreement with the British government, has been proposed informally to the State Department as a means of equally distributing among the producers such cotton trade as Great Britain and her allies permit to be carried on with neutral countries.

Any arrangement of this kind would have to be made directly between the British government and the cotton interests, without participation or approval by the State Department. Officials point out that to accede to any restrictions upon trade between neutral countries in non-contraband would mean abandonment of the principle of freedom of the seas laid down in notes to Great Britain and about to be stated with greater insistence in another communication now in preparation.

It has been suggested, however, that pending settlement of the differences between the two governments, American officials might informally aid the cotton shippers and exporters in any effort they might make to facilitate their trade. It was announced recently that Great Britain would be willing to enter into an agreement not interfering with cargoes of cotton for neutral countries provided no more was shipped to each country than the normal amount consumed there.

The British embassy here has been active in negotiating for an agreement which would relieve the cotton trade, and embassy officials express confidence that some practical scheme will be worked out.

POSED AS FLAGLER'S WIDOW

Woman Accused of Obtaining Money by False Pretenses.

New York, July 22.—A woman who described herself as Mrs. Zora Emma Flagler, 50 years old, is held here in $5,000 bail for examination Friday by Magistrate McQuade on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The complainant, Frank J. Mahoney, swore to an affidavit that he had paid $800 to the woman after she had represented that she, as the widow, was soon to receive $15,000,000 from the estate of the late Henry M. Flagler, millionaire railroad builder.

Mrs. Flagler asked that the date for her examination be fixed for Friday as her lawyer, who is now in Chicago, is expected back at that time.

Lawrence C. Haines, of Brooklyn, representing the Flagler estate, made an affidavit corroborating that of Mahoney. He swore that the woman was not the widow of the deceased financier.

BRIDGEPORT TROUBLE ABOUT TO BE SETTLED

All Strikers May Return to Work Monday.

It is Said Remington Official Has Promised to Write Provisions for the Eight-Hour Day—Gompers to be Questioned.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 22. — J. J. Keppler, vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, announced here tonight that a settlement of the labor troubles in Bridgeport, where thousands of men and women are engaged night and day in the manufacture of munitions of war for the use of Great Britain and her allies, was about to be made. He stated that unless the plans miscarried, every person now on strike would be at work Monday.

An official of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company was said to have promised to place in writing provisions for an eight-hour day, stable wages and future employment. The announcement caused labor men to proclaim a victory, which, they said, would be the first in the campaign to secure an eight-hour working day throughout New England.

John A. Johnston, International vice-president of the Structural Iron Workers, speaking of Samuel Gompers coming here tomorrow, intimated that the president of the American Federation of Labor would be questioned about the published report that "German influences" were back of the strike movement.

VERY NEAR WARSAW BUT NOT GETTING NEARER VERY FAST

Teutons Have Made No Serious Breach in Well-Fortified Inner Lines.

RESISTANCE STUBBORN

Argonne and Vosges Still the Scenes of Severe Fighting in the West.

London, July 22.—Though the Austro-German armies pressing the Russian forces defending Warsaw have made progress at some points, they have not as yet made any serious breach in the well-fortified inner-lines defending that city.

The Russians, it is true, have been pressed back to the bridgehead positions directly west of Warsaw and into the fortress of Ivangorod, further to the southeast on the Vistula, but at these points they possibly are in a better position to offer stubborn resistance to their opponents.

The two attacks from the north, along the Narew river by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and that which Field Marshal Von Mackensen is directing from the southeast, between the Vistula and Bug rivers, either have been held up or the Germans are waiting for an opportune moment to move forward and catch the Russian armies, should they evacuate Warsaw. At any rate, the Berlin official statement does not claim any advance for Mackensen and, although it states the Russians have ceased their counter attacks along the Narew, it does not mention any success for Von Hindenburg.

Should the Russians hold Warsaw, however, it would surprise the military critics in the Allied countries who have discounted the loss of the city, attacked from all sides by opponents composed of superiority of guns and men.

Grand Duke Nicholas, although able to inflict heavy losses on the Austro-Germans, must consider the safety of his armies, the loss of which would be much more serious than retirement from the Polish capital and surrounding territory.

Around the region of Shavli on the Dubissa river and on the Mariampol-Kovno road the Germans claim a series of successes, but nothing is said of the fighting nearer Riga, for which another German army is heading.

The Argonne and the Vosges still are the scenes of severe fighting in the West. The accounts from the opposing sides still are contradictory, but it would appear that the French have made some progress in the Vosges and that the Germans have offset this by a partially successful offensive in the Argone.

The Italians continued their attacks along the Isonzo, the battle for the conquest of Gorizia and the Carso plateau assuming larger preparations and more men being engaged than in ay previous battle o the Italian front.

The Italians claim to be making progress, while the Austrians consistently report that all attacks have been repulsed.

A short official account issued tonight of recent fighting on the Galli poli peninsula indicates that the engagements have been of rather a minor nature, but have favored the Allies.

Submarines Less Active.

Not a single British merchant ship or fishing craft was sunk by German submarines during the week ending yesterday. This was the first week since the commencement of the war that some loss to British shipping has not been occasioned by either German cruisers, mines or submarines.

During the week 1,326 vessels of more than 300 tons each arrived at or departed from ports of the United Kingdom.

After weeks of minor engagements, the Austro-Italian campaign is assuming a degree of ferocity which puts it on a plane with some of the long drawn out and hard fought battles in the older war centers. The Italian offensive movement on the Isonzo front with Georgia as the great objective has developed to large proportios, and heavy casualties are indicated by the fact that both sides have been obliged to bring u preinforcements.

Rome reports the failure of the Austrian attempt to cut off the Italian left, and "a noteworthy advance, by the Italian forces at several points.

On the plateaus, along the Isonzo the fighting has continued with undiminished violence for several days. The Austrians in counter attacks succeeded in regaining positions which they had previously lost. In one attack, according to Vienna, te Italian infantry regiments were engaged and for the most part, the fighting was hand to hand. A four days' battle on the Doberdo plateau has not yet been decided.

GERMANY WELL PROVIDED.

Could Manufacture Munitions to Carry on War Indefinitely.

Berlin, July 22 (By Wireless to Sayville)—The Overseas News Agency today gave out the following:

"Official investigations have established the fact that Germany is amply provided with all raw materials necessary to continue the war for a long time to come. Good crops are furnishing sufficient quantities of breadstuffs, vegetables and potatoes, even permitting a considerable increase in cattle and swine.

"Of greater importance is the certainty that Germany is producing enough lead to satisfy all demands.

"The stores of copper are large enough to manufacture all shells and shrapnel far beyond the probable du-

MODIFIES EXPRESS COMPANY RULINGS

Commerce Commission Finds Revenues Inadequate

ALLOWS MORE PROFIT

Readjustment is so Arranged That Substantially No Commodity Rates Will be Affected—Petition From the Companies.

Washington, July 22.—The Interstate Commerce Commission decided today that the revenues of the principal express companies of the United States are inadequate and modified its former orders to provide additional income.

Present express rates are based on three factors: An allowance of 20 cents for collection and delivery of each shipment, which does not vary with weight or distance; a rail terminal allowance of 25 cents per 100 pounds which varies with the weight, but not the distance, and the rail transportation per 100 pounds which varies with the weight, the distance and the zone.

In accordance with the petition of the companies, the commission modified its order so as to increase the collection and delivery allowance five cents for each shipment and to reduce the rail terminal allowance at the rate of one-twentieth of one cent a pound. As the weight increases the five cent increase is gradually reduced, so that on shipments of more than 100 pounds the readjustment will not make any change. Substantially no commodity rates will be affected. With few exceptions, any changed rates will be substantially lower than those prevailing when the commission established the zone system last year. By that means, the express companies are expected to increase their gross revenues about 3.86 per cent.

The commission's report shows that the net operating revenues of the four big companies have decreased to a deficit of $1,132,811 in the year 1914-15 and in the same period operating income decreased $2,449,863.

"While the financial conditions of certain of the petitioners is more favorable than that of others," says the report, "it clearly appears that as a whole they are operating at a loss."

FRANK'S CONDITION CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Bulletins Discontinued—Another Prisoner is Stabbed.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 22. — Leo M. Frank's condition has improved so much that further official bulletins will not be issued unless there should be a pronounced change, it was announced tonight by physicians attending him at the Georgia prison farm here. Inflammation resulting from the knife wound in Frank's throat decreased materially today, and his temperature was within a degree of normal.

Frank has received scores of letters and telegrams from persons throughout the country, offering sympathy and expressing hope for his recovery from the attack made by another convict. Another prisoner in the prison here was stabbed today by a convict.

Charles Miller, serving a term for burglary, was cut in the stomach by Frank Reid, in prison for murder. No explanation was given as to how Reid obtained his weapon.

MRS. VERNON A SUICIDE.

Death of Husband in Lusitania Disaster Believed to Be Cause.

New York, July 22.—Grief over the death of her husband, George L. Vernon, a film manufacturer who lost his life on the Lusitania, is believed to be responsible for the suicide of Mrs. Inez Vernon, whose body was found in her apartment here today. She evidently had shot herself several days ago.

Mrs. Vernon was a sister of Rita Jolivet, the actress, who was saved when the Lusitania sank.

Flour exports for May aggregated $9,800,000, an increase of $5,500,000 over May 1914.

BAYONNE STRIKERS BECOME DESPERATE

New Jersey Militia May be Called Out.

TWO MORE MEN KILLED

Result of Fights Between Strikers and Guards—An Outbreak of Fires Around Oil Plant—Strikers Fight Among Selves.

New York, July 22.—Whether militia would be called out to preserve order was the question tonight in Bayonne, where two more men were killed today in fights between striking employees of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and armed guards, bringing the total deaths up to three since the strike began.

Sheriff Eugene Kinkead, who has worked earnestly to pacify the strikers, called on Governor J. F. Fielder for troops when jeered by crowds after the battle.

Wilbur F. Sadler, Adjutant General of New Jersey, was ordered to Bayonne, and on his report rests the calling out of the militia.

Later Sheriff Kinkead appealed to Washington for Federal mediators, and two were sent by the Department of Labor.

The acceptance tonight by the strikers of an offer of the five city commissioners to act as arbitrators, may have the effect of helping end the strike.

The strikers will present their demand for a fifteen per cent. increase in wages to the commissioners tomorrow, and the latter will lay them before the Standard Oil plant officials.

Lull is Dissipated.

The lull which followed the serious disorder of yesterday, in which one youth was killed, was dissipated about noon today, several hundred of the 1,500 strikers attacking the guards within th Standard plant. The guards replied to the showers of bricks, stones and clubs with volleys from their rifles, and three men had been wounded seriously when the crowd retreated.

The next and most serious attack was on the Tidewater Oil Company's barrel works, near the Standard plant. After two of the attacking party had been shot dead and three others injured seriously, the attackers withdrew. It was said that none of the guards were injured.

Later in the day, guards within the Tidewater works fired on a crowd of 150 persons outside, and the latter replied with revolvers. No injuries were reported.

Early tonight persons in the crowd near the plants began fighting among themselves, and a man suspected of being a guard was rescued by five policemen. His condition was said to be serious.

There was an outbreak of fires around the plants today, one of which was believed to have been started by the throwing of burning oil-soaked waste over the walls. This menaced the large oil tanks, and the safety of the guards, but was easily extinguished, as were all the other fires.

NO TROOPS NEEDED

Unless Conditions at Bayonne Become Worse, is Report.

Trenton, N. J., July 22. — Adjutant General Wilbur F. Sadler, of the New Jersey National Guard, late today reported to the military department here that no troops would be necessary to maintain order at Bayonne, unless there is a change in the situation.

Mr. Sadler went to Bayonne today at the request of Governor Fielder, and made a thorough investigation of conditions there.

THE STEAMER ORDUNA AGAIN PUTS TO SEA

Sails for Liverpool With Cargo of Munitions.

Eight Americans Included in Passenger List—Evidently There Was No Thought of Another Attack by Submarine.

New York, July 22.—With 195 passengers on board, including eight Americans, and 10,000 tons of general cargo, the Orduno, of the Cunard Line, sailed today for Liverpool.

There was no evidence on the part of the passengers or Captain Thomas McComb Taylor, her commander, the thought of attack by a German submarine would again occur and also there was no attempt to prevent friends of departing passengers from going on board before the steamship departed.

The Orduna's cargo included 107 automobiles, 100 cases of automobile parts, 60 cases of aeroplanes and parts, 3,800 cases of cartridges, 986 cases of empty shells, 404 cases of infantry equipment, 220 cases of fuses and 17 cases of revolvers.

Newport News, Va., July 22.—The new freight steamer Walter D. Noyes left here this evening for Boston where she will be turned over to her owners, the Crowell & Thurlow Steamship Co. The Walter D. Noyes is designed for the coastwise and canal trade.

CARRANZA TO DEAL WITH GOVERNMENTS RECOGNIZING HIM

No Communications or Business With Those Having No Accredited Agents.

NACO TO BE VACATED

Unofficial Advices Say Chieftains Prepare to Abide by Scott Agreement.

Washington, July 22.—Diplomatic advices reaching Washington from Mexico today said General Carranza had given notice that he would not receive communications from or transact business with foreign governments which have no diplomatic agents accredited to his government at Vera Cruz.

Enforcement of such an order practically would cut off the Carranza government from further communication with all foreign nations which have ministers residing in Mexico City. It would not sever his informal relations with the United States government, as Carranza is understood to regard Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz as a properly accredited agent.

Gen. Carranza's Washington agents tonight said they had no advices of any such action by their leader, nor had they heard it was in contemplation. The report created interest and surprise in official and diplomatic circles, particularly in view of the general understanding that foreign governments were awaiting action by the United States toward Mexico before recognizing any government in the reports. It was announced recently that Great Britain had definitely determined to extend no recognition until a government had been recognized by the United States.

Although the Washington government is giving present conditions in Mexico very serious consideration, it became known that tonight the administration contemplates no decisive action in the immediate future.

Too Uncertain for Action.

In official quarters the opinion prevails that the military situation in Mexico is too uncertain for any new step on the part of the United States, and the outcome of approaching conferences between Carranza and Villa forces in central Mexico is awaited with considerable interest.

Mexico City remains cut off from communication with the outside world and there have been no advices concerning the whereabouts of General Gonzalez, who is believed to be seeking battle with a column of Villa troops in the vicinity of Pachuaca. Neither has the State Department any convincing news as to conditions in the capital, or whether the Zapata forces as reported two days ago, are again in active control of the city.

Prepare to Leave Naco.

The State Department today took notice of protests against the occupation of Naco on the Sonora-Arizona border by General Carranza's forces. A message was sent to Carranza at Vera Cruz calling his attention to and asking him to abide by the Scott agreement providing that no military operations should be conducted along the border where lives of Americans would be endangered. Notice was given that the American government regarded the attack upon Naco as a violation of the agreement. Unofficial advices reaching Washington tonight indicated that Carranza's chieftains were preparing to withdraw from Naco.

Prefers to Bottle Up Maytorena.

Nogales, Ariz., July 22.—General P. Elias Calles, Carranza commander in Sonora, will be content to bottle up Jose Maytorena, Villa governor, with his 4,000-odd troops in Nogales, rather than endanger existing relations with the United States by an attack on that border town, according to Americans arriving from Calles' headquarters at Cananea.

EVACUATION EXPECTED.

Carranza Military Forces Will Withdraw from Naco by Today.

Douglas, Ariz., July 22.—The military evacuation of Naco by Carranza forces was expected yesterday by General Calles at his headquarters at Del Rio, according to R. Garduno, Carranza consul here, who said he received a message today from the Carranza commander. The evacuation, it was understood, would take place by tomorrow at the latest.

"We will leave only civil officers to police the town, preserving order and providing customs and telegraphic service," Garduno said.

VILLA TO THE BORDER.

Will Have Conference With Lombardo and Angeles.

El Paso, Tex., July 22.—General Villa will arrive at the border before the end of the week, said an announcement made in Juarez tonight. Villa, it was said, was to confer with Miguel Diaz Lombardo, his minister of foreign affairs, and General Felipe Angeles, on their way here from Washington.

SEGREGATION SOLUTION FOR THE SOCIAL EVIL

Address Before the International Purity Congress.

San Francisco, July 22. — Walter J. Peterson, former chief of police of Oakland, proposed segregation as a solution of the social evil at the International Purity Congress today. B. S. Steadwell, president of the Congress, voiced the feelings of a half dozen delegates clamoring for the floor, when he said that segregation was a solution of the problem.

Easy Victory in Western Amateur Golf Championship.

Cleveland, July 22.—"Chick" Evans, Western champion, and New Sawyer, of Chicago, had an easy victory over their opponents in today's matches in the Western amateur golf championship over the Mayfield course. Sawyer defeated Jack Neville, Oakland, Cal., 10 and 9, and Evans extended a similar defeat to Guy A. Miller, of Detroit.

Golf enthusiasts regard the Evans-Sawyer clash tomorrow as the real title affair of the tournament as they believe the victor will have little trouble defeating either James Standish, or H. P. Bingham, the other two who meet in the semi-final matches.

They do not themselves say they paid that sum, but they did give enough to make it very interesting for the management of the Indianapolis club.

ROCKY MOUNT DOWN HOMERS DEFEAT PORTSMOUTH TIGERS

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 22.—With an even number of hits, the Tar Heels claimed today's game because of ineffective fielding at the critical stages while the winning run came after two were down and when Strain dropped an easy pop up to left in the eighth. McCleary, on the mound for the Pirates, was a wee bit wild but was quite effective also, save in one or two instances when the Tar Heels found him timely.

Twice was the game lost by the Tar Heels and three times was it won. Teague uncorked a wild pitch in the sixth and scored two runners, while in the eighth and ninth Goosetree and Edwards came to the rescue with great fielding sensations which nipped some run getting in the bud and saved the clash for the Tar Heels.

OCEAN-AND-RAIL RATES TO SPARTANBURG ARE UNJUST.

Interstate Commerce Commission Find They Are Excessive.

Washington, July 22.—Ocean-and-rail rates from eastern points to Spartanburg, S. C., via Charleston, were found unjustly discriminatory today by the Interstate Commerce Commission in so far as they exceed ocean-and-rail rates to Charlotte. All rail rates from the East and from Ohio and Mississippi river crossings to Spartanburg were found unjustly discriminatory in so far as they exceed the rates to Charlotte. Rates from Buffalo and Pittsburg and points in that territory and from Virginia points to Spartanburg were not found unjustly discriminative.

DEATH AT ROWLAND

Mrs. A. C. Sinclair Dies Suddenly —Community Shocked.

Rowland, N. C., July 22.—Mrs. Sinclair, wife of A. C. Sinclair, died unexpectedly about noon Monday at her home in Rowland. She was much loved and her death was a great shock to the people here.

Mrs. Sinclair's maiden name was Viola Elizabeth Cooper. She was raised on a farm near Dobson and finished her education at the Greensboro Normal College. For several years previous to her marriage she taught school; two years of that time at Centenary school, three miles from Rowland, and two years at the Rowland High school. She was married to Mr. Sinclair, December 30, 1913. She became 29 years old this month. Mrs. Sinclair's husband, mother, two brothers and one sister survive her.

THEATRICAL

Today witnesses the closing of the startling adventures of Princess Hassan in the "Under the Crescent" series, a series of photoplays that have created a great sensation wherever they have been shown. Capacity crowds have witnessed each episode, and in this the sixth adventure the beautiful Princess Hassan, after many hairbreadth escapes, is finally captured and is condemned to death. How she is saved, and the beautiful love promise that follows, makes one of the most remarkable adventures of the series.

The wonderfully beautiful Oriental settings of the previous Princess Hassan stories are even surpassed in this. Don't miss seeing this final chapter. It is truly great.

In the Exploits of Elaine, Wu Fang grows more persistent in his efforts to accomplish the death of Elaine and her protector, Craig Kennedy. His enormous wealth enables him to carry out the most elaborate plans for the death of the hated detective and his fair haired sweetheart. His followers know no other word than their master's and his Oriental craftiness enables him to keep well out of the law's reach.

Among great events chronicled in Animated Weekly this week is the Lipton Cup winner at San Francisco. Elaborate naval celebration at Atlantic City, noted auto drivers in thrilling 500 mile race at Chicago, Aviator Niles looping the loop, the thrilling Yale-Harvard regatta, and some big war scenes.

At the Academy.

Judging by the delighted comments of Wilmington theatre-goers their popular fancy has been struck by an early opening of the 1915-16 theatrical season at the Academy of Music and a happy selection was made in allowing the inauguration by a stock company, which, if patronage justifies, as it should, will become a permanent feature. This stock company is composed of well known artists and only the biggest royalty plays will be offered. It will be a regular metropolitan company, as a glance at the personnel well demonstrates. Each event will also be a production, being made with special scenery and effects, and a full orchestra has been engaged by Mr. J. P. Goring, who will direct the season for Mr. Lynch, the new lessee of the Academy.

As announced yesterday, the opening will take place next Monday night and the bill for the initial week (all next week) will be Margaret Mayo's swell comedy, "Baby Mine." It will be recalled that "Baby Mine" was played in Wilmington a couple seasons ago at $1.50 per seat. The production next week will be in every way the equal of this big one-night show. The part of "Zoie", the clever, demure, timid, impulsive little woman who causes all the trouble—a constant roar for the audience—will be played by Miss Peggy Cameron, the pretty leading woman of the company, and who has hitherto been seen only in Broadway or big road shows. She handles the part as well as the original "Zoie" and will at once captivate the hearts of Wilmington theatre-goers. Her support will be of the star variety.

"Goddess" at the Grand.

Anita Stewart and Earle Williams are the leading stars in the Greatest serial ever produced, "The Goddess," of which the first installment will be shown at the Grand today.

"The Goddess" is different from all other continued stories. First of all, it is not a serial, but a continued photoplay in chapters. From the fertile brain of Gouverneur Morris, one of the greatest and highest-class American authors, it is not a blood-and-thunder, hodge-podge conglomeration of stunts, thought out first and a story afterwards woven around them. It is created and conceived by the authors solely and represents their great efforts—the pinnacle of their aspirations. The creative genius of Gouverneur Morris is responsible for the theme, and the skill hand of Charles W. Goddard evolved the scenario from which Ralph W. Ince produced the screen version of this continued story.

You will find that the interest in the Goddess increases—that the suspense and thrills develop as each chapter unfolds. It starts as a continued story should start and increases in strength and interest-holding situations like an avalanche down a mountain side.

In addition to the Goddess Mr. Romaine Fielding will present his latest drama in two reels, written by himself, entitled "From Champion to Tramp." The plot is out of the beaten track, and develops an unexpected amount of exciting situations and a properly concluded love story. The cast includes Vinnie Burns, and Roscoe Karnes, who are prominent in Mr. Fielding's support.

RUSSIAN RAILROAD IS THE OBJECTIVE

THREE SEPARATE LINES

Fighting is Furious Ten Miles Southwest of Fortress of Ivangorod. Russians Attempt to Break Enemy Front.

Austro-Hungarian Headquarters, July 21, via London, July 22.—The allied armies' offensive in Poland is proceeding with machine-like regularity and has entered the decisive stage of the struggle in South Poland, a battle for the possession of the important railroad line connecting Cholm, Lublin and Ivangorod and of these strategically important cities.

The Russians, although clinging desperately to every undulation of the water course in the broken sandy country, have been driven from one advanced position after another and forced to fall back upon their last and main line of defense south of the railroad.

The northward movement of the armies has considerably shortened the long battle line and the Russians have been enabled to concentrate in heavier force, but the same factor frees considerable masses of the allied troops to be used for a concentrated attack against the new line.

The allies have executed their advance under highly unfavorable conditions, having had to force a way through a wide belt of sandy country, interrupted with frequent swamps. The Russians could entrench in this country with lightning rapidity, while the Austro-German artillery could be moved through the deep sand only when double-spanned and with the gunners putting their shoulders to the wheels. Wet weather and fog hampered marching and the observations for the artillery.

The Russian troops are of the first quality, but are handicapped for a lack of artillery and ammunition and from a shortage of officers.

The advance is proceeding in three columns and the eastern column is almost in touch with its objective, the Russian barrier south and southwest of Cholm.

The Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand's army, operating against Lublin, already has reached and passed the furthermost line reached by the Russians under General Dankl's army last August and is steadily pushing back the Russians.

Before Ivangorod, the Russians are fighting furiously in positions barely ten miles southwest of the fortress, apparently attempting only to cover the retreat upon Ivangorod. This position already has been broken at one point and its abandonment is imminent. Ivangorod from this side is very strong and an attack against it is difficult, but it is less defensible from the east and the Archduke's advance from that region is its main danger.

Comparative quiet prevails along the Bug river. The Austrians by forcing a passage of the river at Sokal and to the northward have secured a flank against any attempt at envelopment.

Desperate fighting is in progress on the Bukowina frontier, the Russians making vigorous attempts to break the northeastern front. An attack on the night of the 20th northeast of Czernowitz, lasted five hours before the Russians were repulsed with very heavy casualties.

STANDARD OIL STRIKE HITS NORTH CAROLINA

Eight Hundred Men at Belhaven Thrown Out of Work

Interstate Cooperage Plant, Which Furnishes Barrels to Bayonne Plants, Shut Down—A. C. L. Cashier's Car in River.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 23.—With 800 men thrown out of work with the sudden closing of the Interstate Cooperage Company at Belhaven this morning, that section of North Carolina is feeling the direct effects of the Standard Oil Co., strike at Bayonne, N. Y., it is believed. The big cooperage plant at Belhaven has for some years sold its entire output to the Constable Hoop Co., at Bayonne, which company in turn has supplied the barrels for the Standard Oil and Tidewater Oil companies plants at Bayonne.

Since the closing of the plant of the Standard Oil Co., several days ago and the closing of the plant of the Tidewater Oil Co., yesterday, it is believed that the cutting off of the demand for the barrel material from this State has made imperative the action of the Interstate Cooperage Co., at Belhaven.

The announcement of no more work at the plant of the cooperage company at Belhaven came as a surprise today, and with 800 breadwinners idle the gravity of the situation is appreciated only when the several thousand dependants are regarded. The cooperage company is the largest industry of the town and the closing for but a brief time will mean a great embarrassment to the business.

Officers of the company are quoted as having stated that the plant will be idle only one week.

A. C. L. Pay Car in River.

The cashier's car of the Atlantic Coast Line pay train, while sojourning over night at Vandemere, was precipitated through a wharf track and into the river, so great was its weight. This car makes monthly trips over the A. C. L. system paying out hundreds of thousands of dollars every trip, but this is the first time in its history that trackage apparently safe for other traffic and cars has given way under this train.

Since the cashier's car contains little else than the safe, contents, and fixtures one naturally can conjecture that there was a big amount of money on board when the car broke through and fell into Pamlico river. However, there is no statement to this effect and generally there are shipments of the "moxuma" at points of frequent intervals. The car was taken from the river today, two engines being employed at the task. Little damage was done outside of a general damage by water and upsetting many of the files and some of the books in the car.

NO SUMMER CAMP FOR TRAINING UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD

Coach Trenchard Very Optimistic as to Outlook.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., July 22.—The summer camp for the training of the University's football squad will not be held this year. This is the decision reached by Coach T. G. Trenchard who has been carefully considering the matter for a long time. When asked the reason for such a course, Coach Trenchard incidentally gave out some advance dope on the season's prospects.

"Most of the members of last year's team will be back," said the coach, "and only a few of these will need any preparation in their classroom work, so there is not so much necessity for the camp this year as there has been. Besides this, so many of the fellows have gone to the western wheat fields or are doing some other kind of work in order to meet expenses next fall, that it would be extremely hard to get the bunch together now. Heretofore the football season opened on the last Saturday in September, but this year's schedule will begin about ten days later in order that the men may have more preliminary training and more chance to work out before the initial game. Another capital reason why the camp will not be held is the unsettled business situation. The fellows who go with us every year are the ones who are hit hardest by hard times. The camp receives no appropriation from the University and has no official connection with it; the fellows pay their expenses and receive in return thorough coaching in subjects in which they are deficient and are put in trim for the football season. Fewer men, then, could afford the trip this year because times are so hard."

"What are the prospects for a winning team this fall? That sounds like an old story," said Coach with a smile, "but we are not making any rash statements this early in the game. One thing I can truthfully say, however, and that is that our prospects for a winning team are the best they have ever been."

EXCEPTIONS FILED BY SEABORAD AIR LINE

To Increase in Tax Assessments of Its Property

Corporation Commission Will Give Railroad Hearing on August 12. Other Roads Except.—Hon. J. R. Young to Speak.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—The Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company filed today formal exceptions to the new and increased tax assessment on the railroad property by the Corporation Commission in the quadrennial re-assessment of all railroad property in the State just completed by the commission. W. L. Stanley, general claim agent, in charge of the tax division of the Seaboard, called on the commission this morning, accompanied by James H. Pou and Murray Allen, counsel for the Seaboard, to file the exceptions and ask that a date be set for a hearing. The commission named August 12 for the hearing.

There was also received by the commission today exceptions by the Laurinburg & Southern Railroad Co., presented by J. A. Jones, secretary and general manager. The commission will give a special hearing as to these assessments later. In fact, indications are that practically all the railroad companies will call for special hearings in which they will argue that the substantial increases that the commission has made in the assessments against all the railroad companies in this State are excessive. They are not opposing some increase, but plead that the increases are out of proportion to the increases on other property and that they are entitled to reductions.

Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the North Carolina Furniture Manufacturers' Association at Asheville August 18.

A pamphlet that Commissioner Young has prepared on his plan for Rural Land and Loan Associations patterned after the building and loan associations for the towns is to be supplied by the commissioner to the farmers' institute division of the Department of Agriculture to be distributed to the farmers in connection with the institutes that are to be held in every section of the State this summer and fall.

COLORED PYTHIANS IN SESSION

Grand Lodge in Meeting at Elizabeth City This Week.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabeth City, N. C., July 22.—The negro grand lodge of Knights of Pythias of North Carolina convened in this city July 20 with Dr. J. W. Jones, of Winston-Salem, Grand Chancellor presiding.

Among the features of the opening programme were a number of welcome speeches which revealed the excellent relations existing between the two races here. The white citizens of Elizabeth City were highly commended by the local colored speakers. Mayor P. G. Sawyer, gave a welcome address in behalf of the city and was given a noteworthy ovation by the members of the convention.

The responses to the welcome address were delivered by Dr. B. F. Martin, of Gastonia, and Dr. L. P. Capeheart, of Raleigh.

Reports from the various lodges showed a healthy increase in all departments of the fraternity. A pertinent feature of today's programme was the annual address of Dr. Jones and Col. James H. Young, of Raleigh. Colonel Young emphasized in his address that the fraternities among negroes are doing much in making them desirable citizens and making them helpful factors in their community.

There are over 300 delegates in attendance from every section of the State and the business of the lodge has been dispatched harmoniously. The members are enthusiastic over the results obtained during the year.

Being Held by Holiness People Near Chocowinity.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 22.—The great camp meeting of the Holiness church in Eastern Carolina, held annually at a rural meeting house near Chocowinity, is now in full swing. The preachers include A. H. Butler, of Kinston; G. F. Taylor, of Faison, and F. E. Short and wife, of Oklahoma. Hundreds of the believers are making the pilgrimage from all parts of the State east of Goldsboro. On some days of the several weeks that the camp meeting will be in progress, there will be thousands of people in attendance. Many of these, of course, will be mere curiosity seekers.

Queen or Dairy Maid Ambition the Same

In the expectant mother's mind there is no limit to what the future has in store, and yet during the period of expectancy, much depends upon the physical comfort of the mother. One of the best aids is a remedy known as "Mother's Friend." Applied over the muscles, it penetrates to the net work of nerves, relieves the pains incident to stretching of cords and ligaments, makes them pliant, induces daily comfort, restful nights, a calm mind and pleasant anticipation. You use it with your own hand, apply it as needed, and at once feel a sense of relief.

Mothers who have learned all this from experience tell of the blessed relief from morning sickness, the absence of strain and the undoubted healthful influence imparted to the coming baby.

One very important thing to remember about "Mother's Friend," it can not exercise any other influence than to simply lubricate the parts, make them more firm to naturally withstand the constantly increasing pressure. And as the muscles continue to expand, the nerves become accustomed to this new condition and adjust themselves without undue pain. "Mother's Friend" is entirely free of any drug influence whatsoever and may be used freely at all times.

Get a bottle of this splendid help today. Phone your nearest druggist or send for it. Then write Bradfield Regulator Co., 704 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a valuable book of instruction for expectant mothers.

"Mother's Friend" is recommended everywhere by women who have used it. And you can read some very interesting letters if you write for this book.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Same Stroke Takes Two Mules and one of the Riders.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., July 22.—Charlie Adams, a young negro employed by J. J. Rivers, also colored, and whose home is at the foot of the Tuscarora road a few miles from Newbern, was killed and two mules owned by Rivers also met their death when a bolt of lightning struck them late yesterday afternoon a few miles from Newbern.

Adams and a son of Rivers had been out working with the mules and when the storm came up they started home. They were riding along the road at a leisurely gait when from out of the sky shot the bolt of lightning. Both mules and Adams were killed instantly and, strange to say, young Rivers declares that he did not feel the shock of the electricity, sustaining his only injury when the animal on which he was riding fell to the ground with its rider.

TOP O' THE MORNING

Action and attrition are well enough; any of us can talk and act. Thought and solitude and suffering, these, when all is said, remain the great motive powers of the world.

—ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS.

Strive to get reputation rather than notoriety. The small man is satisfied with notoriety.

Some retreat because they have to, some because strategy requires it, and some because the strategy of others compels it.

The war censors are accused of sending lies as news, but the probability is that the censors cut down the lies so they won't appear so incredible.

They are talking about building submarines to carry on commerce during war. They would be fine for running a blockade, but they might be outlawed by the nations.

We take it that the strikes in England, America and Germany are because the working men do not want everybody else to make all the money out of the war while they do all the work.

A Philadelphia woman killed her husband and gave as an excuse for it that he failed to come up to her expectations. Probably he had told her he was an Italian count, but allowed her to catch him trying to soak his organ.

New York artists are now much exercised over the ideal American girl. We don't see how they can pick out the real ideal girl till they have seen the North Carolina type, embracing soulfulness, intelligence, dutifulness, shapeliness and beauty, all blending into the only perfect model there is.

Says the Allentown Democrat: "A Chicago man was forced by his wife to sleep with her dog for ten years and now he wants a divorce." He stood it a long time, but he must have made up his mind that the old dog was liable to die and leave him on his wife's hands as a helpless orphan.

Colonel Roosevelt said in his speech in San Francisco on Wednesday that "a man afraid to fight is not fit to vote" and that "a mother who is not willing to raise her boy to be a soldier is not fit for citizenship." Furthermore, he declared, "I'm not for war, I want peace." We guess he can prove every word of it by Japan.

The Newbern Sun says: "A negro and a watermelon is a combination that is hard to beat." Well, if the Sun has that idea, it ought to see us on the outside of the Brunswick specimen of melon, beautifully red within, granulated with sacharinity and julepitiously juicy. In spite of what we look like, that ecstatic feeling otherwise is the real thing.

In connection with the contention of both Germany and Great Britain, principals, respectively, in the great war, that they went to war in self-defense and are fighting for their national life, it ought not to be considered impertinent to ask how much fighting has either Great Britain or Germany done on their own soil. Each side has left its native land to defend it!

Teddy talks as if he thinks President Wilson is neglecting his opportunity to get into war while all the other nations are at it. However, President Wilson is for peace with honor, like Teddy was when he found out the unpreparedness of the country for war when he was President. Even if President Wilson wanted to be a war president, the Republicans never left him army and navy enough to protect Little Old New York. Peace at most any old price would not be so dishonorable as going to war and subjecting the army and navy to insult. If the country wants to fight, it ought to put its fighting clothes on a million or two of soldiers and put more fighting machines on the ocean. That is for the country to say, after it gets tired having peace because it isn't ready to fight.

PESSIMISTS CALLED TO TAW.

The Star heartily concurs in the views of Col. Richard H. Edmonds, of the Manufacturers' Record, with reference to agitation by pessimists and politicians who are creating uneasiness in the South by some of the unnecessary forebodings being voiced about marketing this season's cotton crop. Recently the Birmingham News contained an editorial condemning pessimism and pointing to the fact that the utterances of the pessimists would injure the South—"not among investors at home but in the eyes of those of other sections who might be induced to locate and invest in the South." Editor Edmonds telegraphed his concurrence in The News editorial and later extended his congratulations in these strong and able words:

"Accept my heartiest congratulations on your editorial of July 15, 'Pessimists Are Doing the South Great Harm.'

"This section was cursed last year by pessimists and politicians working together. They created throughout the South a feeling of desperate poverty and they made the rest of the country believe that the South was going to the dogs; that it was bankrupt and scarcely worth saving. Throughout the entire North and West people were importuned to 'buy a bale of cotton' to help save the South from destruction. If the politicians and pessimists who brought about this condition should live a thousand years they would never be able to atone for the injury they did to the South. They weakened its backbone; they lessened its manhood; they made the people of the South believe that they were helpless, and they made the world believe that the South was a land of Lazarus-like beggars.

"Again the pessimists and the politicians are beginning another campaign which, unless it is suppressed, will prove equally as disastrous to this section. Once mor th South is being made to believe that it must depend upon the National Government to save it from ruin; once more the papers of this section and dispatches from the South to Northern papers are carrying the impression that the South is in desperate straits, with bankruptcy staring it in the face unless, perchance, the National Government should undertake to spank Great Britain into permitting Germany to import cotton.

"This propaganda, which is playing directly into the hands of those who are working exclusively for Germany against the Allies, is one of the shrewdest moves by which the South is being played for a 'sucker'; and, unfortunately, some of its politicians are swallowing the bait and begging others to come in and take the same bait.

"The South has raised this year a grain crop that will exceed by several hundred million dollars in value the most valuable cotton crop ever produced. It is raising its own foodstuffs as it has not done since 1865. If its people will cease to follow the political agitator and the pessimist and put forth one-half of the energy and broad optimism in action which the men of the South after 1865 put forth in redeeming this section from poverty, prosperity will once again smile over the land.

"If a region so richly endowed by heaven as is the South is so lacking in self-reliance, in manhood, and in constructive ability that it must sit down and clothe itself with sackcloth and ashes because it cannot at the moment sell one crop to advantage, then surely the time has come to arouse the whole South and awaken a deeper consciousness in its people that great opportunities bring great responsibilities.

"'Unto whom much has been given of him shall much be required.' Much has been given to the South; more than to any other land on earth, and yet the pessimists and the politicians would make the South believe that it is hopelessly powerless except through Government aid, and would make the world at large believe that the South has not sufficient character, energy and backbone to meet a temporary adverse condition, and this condition applies only to one crop, whereas other crops offset in value the temporary adverse condition in cotton. The Manufacturers' Record has been steadily striving to impress the facts upon the South and it rejoices that the Birmingham News is making such a vigorous fight along the same line. May the time soon come when every paper in the South will join in the work."

That ought to silence the pessimists and the class of politicians who seize such an untimely opportunity as this to impress their greatness upon those who need more wise advice than they do such speeches as some of them have made. The South needs such words as those coming from Editor Edmonds, who knows its great resources and knows that it is independent of such a situation as a war 3,000 miles away may bring for a year or two.

THE ONE-TERM PLANK.

The Augusta Chronicle calls attention to the expressed opinion of Colonel George Harvey that "Mr. Bryan will organize a new party to oppose Mr. Wilson for re-election and that the new party will base itself on the "one-term" plank of "the Baltimore platform."

Thereupon, the Jacksonville Times-Union breaks in: "But what's the use of organizing a new party to carry out a declaration that is in the Democratic platform?"

There would not be the slightest excuse for it. All that is necessary is to give the Democratic party plenty of time to carry out that plank and dispose of it for kindling wood.

As a matter of fact, the plank did not commit Wilson to one term. It committed the party to a constitutional amendment providing for one term of several years. The amendment would have to be adopted by Congress and then ratified by the states, and only then and thereafter would Wilson or other candidates be committed to one term, by the constitution itself.

Probably it would require from four to eight years to so amend the constitution, and probably it will take the party all that time to get in a notion of carrying out the platform.

A careful reading of the "one-term plank" shows that the Baltimore convention did not limit the time in which the plank must be carried out, so what is the use to worry when the Democratic party is in charge of the government and has an idea of keeping the Republicans out for the next fifty years, till it is safe for the country to trust them again?

Therefore, the party has all the time you are looking for, and Colonel Bryan is not apt to get in a hurry till President Wilson is elected for his second term. The Nebraskan is still for Wilson, but he won't keep still, and, therefore, he is misunderstood. He will remain with the Democratic party till it has had time to do everything it promised.

The Democratic party has been in power less than two and a half years, and it has had all of its time taken up with undoing what the Republicans have been doing for fifty years, except the large amount of time taken up with dealing with the extraordinary situations brought about by wars in Europe and Mexico. No doubt it will take longer to make the country perfectly safe, and until that is done it is not necessary to take up the party's time with platform planks that are sound and will keep for years.

WHO WILL BE OUR HELMSMEN?

In many respects, the progress of the State depends upon the men at the helm of the ship of state. If the men who are to administer the affairs of the State are possessed of intelligence, broadness, progressiveness and initiative, North Carolina's progress will not be merely normal but enormous, because there is room for it. We don't have to have politicians to run North Carolina. We ought to have students of government, economics, taxation and the kindred subjects in which progress and efficiency can play the big part. We don't want merely administration. We want men who can capably administer government and bring about a solution of our problems by applying themselves to a broader task than that of filling the offices. We elect too many men who merely make incumbents.

If it were constitutional, we ought to put North Carolina's government into the hands of the University for about four years and watch the results. The University extension work now being done for North Carolina on a more comprehensive scale than ever is an indication of some of the things that would be done by a University government. The University extension forces are not only doing things but accomplishing them. They are doing a State-wide educational work along economic, scientific and progressive lines, and that work is bound to grow into a more comprehensive and efficient system, because there are great possibilities in it. In fact, the extension work has just started, and the next time the Legislature meets it ought to make a big appropriation for it's enlargement. We could know North Carolina quicker and better through a broader University extension system than by any other means. It could be made the clearing house for all the county units and then the whole could be grouped into a State-sized integer.

Almost unconsciously we drifted off on to the University idea, but what we really want to emphasize is the State government problem as signally important in connection with the State-wide movement to make North Carolina known abroad by the comprehensive grasp which the State officials and the State Publicity Bureau can get on the progressive lines leading to greater development of the State's resources. A year from now we will select another administration for North Carolina, and it would seem that progress more than politics should guide us in making our nominations. The more intelligent, capable and efficient men we choose for office the greater will be the progress of North Carolina. The best timber for the structure is what we ought to have an eye to, regardless of section, faction, or favor. North Carolina can make progress in placing none but the best helmsmen in charge of the ship of state.

We ought to get more than the satisfactory average administration for North Carolina and then sit up and take notice of the progress which the State will make. Efficient State, county and city governments will score largely in the comprehensive scheme of the State Publicity Bureau, a name that does not fit in with the large dimensions of that State-wide organization. The publicity feature of it really ought to be one of the bureaus of the State organization. The organization is too big for its name, but at the same time it is the work that it is to accomplish that will decide whether it will amount to much or not.

Who will be our State's helmsmen next year? Show us, ye people, and we can then judge whether North Carolina is to go along at the customary gait or whether her progress will be in keeping with the larger view evident in the new spirit of progressiveness everywhere in the State.

NOGGINS AND HAIR.

All that discussion as to whether a bald head indicates intellect, genius, oratory and grandiloquence is contemplation absolutely wasted on the fragrant ozone of North Carolina. When the cranium of a man has become a hairless dome it is not significant of brilliancy, although he might be a slick, smooth and oliaginous article. It is a sign that from his infancy till the days of his depravity his scalp has been neglected. The follicles of his scalp have become diseased, no nourishment is left for his hair, and it can't grow any more than alfalfa will grow on the spherical field of a billiard ball.

When the follicles finally become atrophied and the scalp becomes cicatrized, it is that which gives the bald head of the masculine the appearance of the egg of the dodo. It is a question of hygiene, beginning with infancy and maintained with greater care in the event that exfoliation of the scalp becomes apparent by the appearance of dandruff. This refers, of course, solely to the ociput of otherwise prudent men who have refrained from butting in on a family row and who have not lost their heads during their meanderings and joyrides.

There is no earthly excuse for baldness. Perhaps it is sometimes hereditary on account of neglect of the scalp several generations removed, but the remedy lies in the hands of those who give first aid to male infants of the species. The health department at Raleigh ought to issue a bulletin on this subject and impress upon doctors and parents the importance of giving early attention to the heads of the kids, who should have sanitary noggins is well as hands and mouths. Hygiene and sanitation are bound to make a more beautiful and comely race, and in the future there need not necessarily be a man with a bald head or a woman with barely enough hair to divide with the butter.

There is more truth than poetry in all this. There is no joke in being bald, and there is no sign at all in the propensity of bald-headed men for getting in the front row where they can get the worth of their money at a show. Men do not get in the "bald-head row" because they haven't any hair but because they want to get the full value of their 30 cents. Being bald is only incidental to the occasion and not a paramount issue at all. If the men up in front at a real show had on their nuts as much hair as a whole Russian family, they would instinctively protrude as ornaments right in front of the stage. That really is only a sign that there are some men who will never pay out their hard earned wealth unless they can hear and see three times as much as the guy who is in a back seat thinking about assassinating himself for not having bought his ticket in time to get a front seat.

Neither being bald nor having a nut with redundant hair indicates cerebral or moral qualities. Some long haired men, of course, happen to be poets and artists but not on account of their hair. They were born poets and artists, otherwise they might have been anarchists or citizens of the alfalfa region of Kansas. The real sign of plenty of hair is a healthy scalp with well preserved and sufficiently nourished follicles to keep the wind from blowing the hair out of root.

The only drawback to having a full head of hair is a question which solely concerns the married men's union. They can finish this.

CURRENT COMMENT.

When convicts aspire to do the work of mobs, within prison walls, some thinking is needed. When Frank can have his throat cut and Holt commit suicide, isn't something wrong with the systems? — Jacksonville Times-Union.

The information carried in The Observer a day or so ago to the effect that a lumber manufacturing firm at Waynesville had gone into the making of sounding boards for pianos should interest the trade. The wood used is spruce and balsam, and the manufacturers seem confident that they will get as good results from these woods as are obtained from the material imported from Norway. It is the popular belief that wood suitable for either fiddles or pianos is to be had only in the countries that have traditionally supplied it. The North Carolina spruce and balsam are susceptible to conditions of excellent seasoning, and we have no doubt that if some of it could be smuggled into the piano factories as imported wood the deception would result in the placing on the markets of some pianos of exceptionally fine tone. — Charlotte Observer.

CAN AMERICA DEVELOP A DYE INDUSTRY?

The German dye industry represents an investment of $400,000,000, giving employment to about 50,000 people and producing 800 shades and combinations, according to an article by Mr. Frederick H. Wagner, an engineer, who has visited Germany many times in order to make a close personal study of all the chemical industries of that country, in this week's issue of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore. According to Mr. Wagner, the German dye industry has been exceedingly profitable, paying dividends from 25 to 30 per cent, and laying aside from 30 to 40 per cent on the capital invested for improvements and as a "war" fund. Out of accumulated profits the German dye plants have written off the entire cost of their works so that amortization and interest need no longer be considered in their bookkeeping. As showing what will be necessary for America to do in competing with German dyestuff makers in the development of a dye industry in this country, it is said that one German plant employing 10,000 people employs 800 young university men under a chief chemist in the research laboratory, paying them from $1 to $1.25 per day, their future advancement depending upon their own efforts. All German banks of consequence have associated with them highly trained technical experts, whose sole business it is to examine and report to the bank's manager upon the merits of any invention or any manufacturer's claim for credit. This financial co-operation, in connection with the Government aid, has brought about the development of the dye industry to its present dominating position in the trade, as well as the development of other German industries. As to the possibility of America developing a dye industry, Mr. Wagner says of the German industry with which we will have to compete:

"Organization is pre-eminently the correct title for this activity, because the Germans organize a chemical trade campaign in the same manner as they organize for war, appointing various committees, who constantly seek new markets as well as raw material; who create a demand for the finished product; who establish agencies all over the world; who seek loopholes in foreign patents with the idea of making use of them if possible; who have had the German patent laws so framed as to almost exclude the foreigner, all of this being done under the careful supervision of their government, assisted with the aid of state bounties, or subsidies, duties, etc."

Under these circumstances Mr. Wagner points out the co-operation that must be given by bankers and by the government if permanent success is to attend the efforts to develop dye-making in America.

LOCAL MARKETING CONDITIONS.

To the Editor of The Star:

The writer has read with much interest the declaration of the intention of the Rotary Club to work for better market conditions and Mr. J. P. Herring's letter in Monday's Star.

It seems to the writer that there are two classes of people only who can really bring about the necessary radical changes in the local market conditions, first, the housewife, who represents all the consumers, and, second, the producer or the farmer.

The Rotary Club, the City Council, and the Health Department are all needed, but the real changes in method must be made between the two parties most concerned.

The writer would like to see the old City Market House turned into a cart house for vegetables and fruit (any clean housewife could show the Market committee, recently appointed by the Council, why it is unfit for sale of meats) thus providing ample shelter from rain, sun, etc.

Then the writer would like to see all the housewives of Wilmington going in person to buy from these carts and getting first hand information about produce.

Permit me to quote the following from Professor King, a well known economist and author of "Lower Living in Cities."

"But all the city planning in the world, all the co-operative societies and legislation and municipal markets will count for very little, if the women remain in their present state of unbusinesslike methods and general ignorance concerning the important question of food buying. The best laws, the most virile inspection, the most careful price fixing can never reach their maximum usefulness, until every housewife is a law expositor and price fixer. The women of our great middle class spend nine-tenths of the total family income. Why train men to produce, if women are to ignorantly or carelessly waste what men earn? As the old proverb has it, many a day laborer's wife 'throws more out of the back door with the spoon than her husband can bring in the front door with a shovel.'

"Because the American housewife is helpless and ignorant she turns over the job of spending nine out of every ten dollars of her husband's income to the grocer clerk and counter girl. Only when she is an efficient purchaser will the family income be not only conserved but in effect increased."

FINISH IMPROVEMENTS AT OAKDALE CEMETERY

Water Will be Turned on in New System Today

Entrance at Fifteenth Street Opened. Walks and Driveways Resurfaced. Arrangements Complete in Every Detail.

Notice was received yesterday by President Wm. E. Springer, of the Oakdale Cemetery Co., and Col. Walker Taylor, chairman of the waterworks committee, from Engineer J. L. Becton, that the extensive system of water mains and connections on the company's beautiful grounds in this city, had been completed and that the water would be turned on the system today, July 23rd, for the test, which is expected to prove in every way satisfactory and that the service will be continued permanently in future.

The installation of the waterworks is only a part of very comprehensive improvements that have been made to the cemetery during the past few months, these including the resurfacing of the walks and driveways with Tarvia and Harnett county gravel and the building of the splendid new 15th street entrance. The work of installing the waterworks was in charge of Mr. A. D. O'Brien, the contractor, and Mr. Becton, the engineer, yesterday gave official notice that the system is ready for the test which will be given today before acceptance by the committee which is composed of Col. Taylor, chairman; Mr. DeWitt C. Love and Mr. M. W. Divine. If the test proves satisfactory the water will continue permanently and lot owners in future will have this great convenience, replacing the system of surface pumps that have been in use for a good many years.

The new system has 240 hydrants or connections, one to each block in the cemetery, making water immediately available within less than 20 feet. These connections will mak it possible for every lot owner to have an abundant supply of water for sprinkling the grass plats and flowers on their lots and this will be at no charge whatever to the owner. Only where special connections were laid to individual lots was there a charge to the lot owner, the hydrants provided in the general system being not more than 20 feet from any plat and, therefore, immediately available to all.

The improvement will be a great convenience to all and the system is said to be complete in every detail, affording the best service to be had in cemeteries anywhere.

MAY HAVE NO REUNION OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS

No Invitation Has Yet Been Extended to State Organization.

"No invitation has yet been given for the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans of this State," says the Chatham Record, "and it seems to be doubtful about any such invitation being given. These reunions have been held in nearly all the large cities of the State, and more than once in some of them. They have been held at Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh and Wilmington, where the veterans were treated in the most hospitable manner.

"Thus far the progressive city of Durham has failed to extend such an invitation, although General Carr, of that city, has more than once offered to contribute $500 himself if the public spirited citizens of Durham would contribute the remainder of the amount that might be necessary. Thus far they have not responded to his generous offer, but we cannot think their failure to do so has proceeded from any want of respect and love for the veterans.

"The Confederate Veterans will soon all pass away and then be only a blessed memory. Every year the 'long thin gray line' is becoming thinner and it will not be long before the last survivor of the men who fought and bled with Lee and Jackson will have crossed 'over the river' and joined their immortal leaders. The people of the South should be reminded of this sad fact occasionally 'Lest we forget, lest we forget'."

TO REWARD BRAVERY

Efforts Are Being Made to Secure Carnegie Medal for Strange.

Mr. Thomas W. Strange, who rushed from the lobby of the Oceanic Hotel and made a desperate effort to save the life of Mrs. E. C. Wemple, of Fayetteville, on Thursday morning of last week and was nearly exhausted from his strenuous efforts, thought it only the part of any man to do what he did and places but little importance on his deed, but many others think he deserves a Carnegie hero medal for his bravery and an effort is being made to secure it for him. Mrs. Wemple has written her husband, explaining the circumstances, to secure his aid in rewarding her rescuer.

It is hoped by many of Mr. Strange's friends that he will get the reward they think he deserved.

Tows to Savannah.

The Savannah tug Wm. F. McCauley arrived yesterday and took in tow the large four-masted schooner Eva B. Douglass, Capt. Bennett, which had just completed discharging large cargo of coal for the Springer Coal Co. The Douglass was towed out from the wharf at 6 o'clock yesterday evening by the McCauley and at Savannah will take on a cargo of lumber or ties. She was the only sailing vessel in port upon her departure.

Mr. Constable has visited in Wilmington frequently and was here this week. Mr. Constable will leave tonight to take up his new work.

HEIRS SUE FOR INSURANCE

Seek to Recover Amount Alleged to be Due by Junior Order on Policy of Rev. K. D. Holmes.

Police Sergeant H. W. Howell, financial secretary of George Washington Council, No. 67, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city left yesterday morning, and Mr. C. H. Huband, an officer of the same council, left yesterday evening for Sanford, N. C., where they will attend Lee county Superior Court as witnesses for the defendant in a suit brought by the heirs of the late Rev. Kenneth D. Holmes, at one time pastor of Fifth Street M. E. church here, to recover on a death benefit of $500 from the Supreme Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. Other witnesses, also from this city, are expected to be in attendance upon the trial, which is a most interesting one.

Rev. Mr. Holmes, while a resident of Wilmington, became a member of George Washington Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., this city and remained as such until after he had left the city. He was residing in Sanford, N. C., at the time of his death, and soon after his demise, the administrator of his estate, knowing of his membership in the order, filed a claim with the Jr. O. U. A. M., for the $500 death benefit carried by members of that order.

Upon looking up the record here, it was found, so the officers of the lodge allege, that Mr. Holmes had allowed his membership to lapse, therefore, the claim was not allowed.

Kenneth R. Hoyle, Esq., of the Sanford bar, was employed by the estate for collection of the claim, and it was alleged that the facts would show that since his removal from the city Rev. Mr. Holmes had sent money for the payment of dues which would have put him in good standing.

However, the officers of the local lodge still declined to approve an order on the Supreme Council for payment on the ground of non-payment of dues, and Mr. Hoyle, in behalf of his client, instituted suit in Lee Superior Court where the heirs at law of Rev. Mr. Holmes still reside.

Messrs. Howell and Huband go to Sanford as witnesses for the Jr. O. U. A. M., which is resisting payment of the claim on the grounds stated.

BIJOU SENDS MISS BANKS WEST WITH MISS WALKER

Wilmington Leads Tri-State Contest—Only Town to Give Two Trips.

Miss Beulah Walker and Miss Annie Banks, in the Bijou contest, led the tri-State contest, and are both given a tour of America instead of only Miss Walker, who led by a small margin. The management wired the Bijou management that a specially choice place had been reserved for the two Wilmington ladies, and that their honor was that of being the leaders in the contests that were conducted in 22 cities in three States. They will leave Charlotte on the 3rd of August, and will be gone for 30 days on a tour of the United States and Canada.

Before the contest closed, the Bijou management promised that they would send the winner of second place to Atlantic City for two weeks, and since the contest was finished they have decided to send Miss Banks on the tour also with Miss Walker. There will be 22 young ladies in the party, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Crater, of Greensboro, and a lady from Charlotte, will chaperone them.

The Bijou theatre is the only one in the three States to send two young ladies for a trip across the continent to the two Pacific expositions, and the commendable enterprise of the management has been learned with much interest by the people of Wilmington. It speaks well for them that they have decided to reward both young ladies for such splendid work.

FEAST OF THE LANTERNS

Committees Appointed to Arrange for Big Celebration at Wrightsville Beach on August 6th.

Arrangements are being made for a big celebration at Wrightsville Beach on August 6th, which will be known as the Feast of the Lanterns or a Lantern Fete. The committee on special entertainment, appointed at a mass meeting of the beach citizens last week, met last night at the Seashore Hotel and completed preliminary arrangements for the affair. Committees will be appointed to take charge of the different features of the occasion which promises to be the biggest thing of its kind ever to be given at the beach.

Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, at the mass meeting last week suggested that such an event would be one of particular interest to many people and his idea was at once taken up by the entertainment committee and it is planned to make it a big success. Mr. MacRae states that he got the idea from a lady on the Pacific coast, who attended a similar event at one of the resorts in that section.

At the meeting last night the following committee chairmen were appointed: Fire protection, Mr. W. A. French; boat parade, Mr. Burke H. Bridgers; cottage decoration, Mrs. M. L. Wall; prizes, Mrs. Annie J. Northrop. The personnel of these committee will be selected by the chairman and will be announced today.

Mr. H. E. Bonitz is chairman of the executive committee and the other members are Messrs. A. H. Skelding, W. A. French, Burke H. Bridgers, D. R. Foster, C. D. Maffitt and Mayor Thos. H. Wright.

The following compose the committee on special entertainment: Messrs. H. E. Bonitz, chairman; T. H. Wright, B. H. Bridgers, R. H. Northrop, Marx Nathan, Mrs. M. L. Wall, Mrs. W. M. Parsley, Mrs. Geo. P. Cotchett, Mrs. Annie J. Northrop, Mrs. S. A. Schloss, Mrs. P. Q. Moore, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. Ben Solomon, Mrs. H. C. Bear, Mrs. P. R. Albright.

Arrangements have already been made with both the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line for low rates from all nearby points. Tickets will be sold on Friday, August 6th, good for return until the following Tuesday and it is expected that there will be many visitors for the occasion.

One of the features of the fete suggested by a visiting lady is that of having a kimona dance at Lumina on the evening of the celebration for which a handsome prize will be awarded to the lady having the most attractive costume.

Members of the entertainment committee have agreed upon the following general suggestions for the event:

"Each private cottage, boarding house and hotel, be decorated with as many lanterns as possible. To have at least 10 lanterns on each cottage. Lanterns to be purchased by the owners, a prize to be offered for the best decorated cottage, also a prize for second best. That each cottage that has a lantern decoration should place at least one pail of water and one pail of sand on porch to use in case of emergency.

"That hotels and Lumina to receive special attention in decoration, and a large number of lanterns be placed on and around the two hotels and that Lumina be most attractively decorated with lanterns.

"That a lantern parade start at the Oceanic Hotel and march to Lumina, either on the beach or board walk. To have the crowd assemble at the Oceanic Hotel, and if possible everybody be furnished with a lantern attached to a cane and lighted, and that a band be secured to head the parade, and if possible, all the men to carry horns or bells. The parade to break up at Lumina and all lighted lanterns be put out.

"Lanterns to be strung along the right-of-way from pole to pole, about 10 lanterns between the poles on both sides of the track. If possible these lanterns should be of a very gorgeous nature and be attractively arranged.

"The beach cars will advertise the event in town, and have Japanese lanterns on all the cars, and special cars should be run from Lumina to Northern extension, to be attractively decorated with lanterns.

"I suggest that an arch or tower be erected just where the cars leave the trestle on the beach. This tower should be most attractively decorated with lanterns, and should be a special feature for this occasion.

"Lumina should be the crowning feature of the occasion, handsomely decorated with lanterns and a special dance for the occasion.

"There should also be a water parade of boats, lanterns strung from the masts, about 12 boats to each column, and boats all tied together and pulled by a launch, this parade to take place after the lantern parade has reached Lumina. Have the boats to start from Carolina Yacht Club. A prize be offered for the most attractive design.

"Select a thoroughly live and energetic young man as fire marshal and secure several firemen from the Wilmington Fire Department to act as his assistants, and assign one to each station, also designate about six young men to each station to assist in patrolling the beach to watch out for fire.

"All lanterns to be extinguished when the parade reaches Lumina, and to request all property holders to have their lanterns extinguished as soon as the parade passes their cottage. The parade should leave Oceanic Hotel about 9 o'clock."

BOYS JUMP ON CARS.

Lives Are Endangered by Practice Which is Violation of Law.

There has been much complaint recently because of the practice of small boys of riding on the fenders of the suburban cars of the Tidewater Power Company as they pass out from the car barns on Tenth to Princess street to reach the main line. One boy had his leg severely injured several weeks ago and several others are reported to have had narrow escapes. A gentleman living in the vicinity stated last night that he counted 13 boys yesterday who rode on the fenders for a distance of a block or more and put their lives in serious danger. He says it is causing many parents serious concern and thinks some way should be found by which the practice can be stopped.

There is a State statute making it a violation of law to ride on moving cars in such a manner and while it would seem cruel to have to enforce it strenuously against small boys it would seem that it is time something be done, declared this gentleman.

S. A. L. SURGEONS AT BEACH

J. M. Burke, of Petersburg, Va., Completes Arrangements—Attendance, Likely 250.

The meeting of the Seaboard Air Line Surgeons' Association, which is to be held at the Seashore Hotel, at Wrightsville Beach, August 16, 17 and 18, will bring probably 250 representative physicians from nearly every section of the South to the beach for a stay of several days.

Dr. J. M. Burke, of Petersburg, Va., was at the beach yesterday morning, as a representative of the association, for the purpose of making hotel arrangements for both entertainment and for securing a suitable place to hold meetings of this large body of men who will discuss the problems that confront a railroad physician-surgeon.

Dr. Burke, in speaking of the number that would attend, said he believed there would likely be as many as 300, but felt safe in arranging for only about 200. These men are from various sections and have selected Wrightsville Beach as the most suitable place for a getting together, both as a convenient place to reach and as a place capable of entertaining such a large body of men, which will be one of the largest that has gathered on the beach this summer.

The formal opening will be made on Monday, 16, after which the business sessions will last until Wednesday. Wednesday night a banquet will be given in the dining room of the Seashore hotel.

STILL HEARING COMPLAINTS.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION WILL BEGIN INVESTIGATION

To Ascertain Effect Foreign Combinations on American Export Trade.

Washington, July 23.—The Federal Trade Commission, working in co-operation with the State and Commerce Departments, soon will begin an investigation authorized by Congress into business combinations abroad to ascertai their effect on American export trade.

The object is to determine whether a law should be passed giving American exporters the right to combine in common selling agencies abroad.

RATES FOUND REASONABLE

Complaint of Discrimination on Danville, Va., is Unwarranted.

Washington, July 22.—Complaint that the general adjustment of rates between Danville, Va., and points in the West, East and South, is unreasonable, was found unwarranted today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission in its report pointed out, however, that in view of readjustments in grain rates from the West to points in North and South Carolina, Southern Railway and other carriers will be expected to establish corresponding rates on these articles to Danville.

A rate of $2.10 per net ton on bituminous coal from the Pocahontas field in West Virginia to Danville was prescribed.

GOVERNMENT CLERK ARRESTED.

Chief Clerk Tanner of New York Sub-Treasury—Held Under Bond.

New York, July 22.—William B. Tenner, chief clerk of the minor coin division in the United States sub-treasury in Wall Street, was arrested today by secret service agents, charged with embezzling government funds. He was held in $7,500 bail to await the action of the Federal grand jury.

Tanner, according to United States District Attorney Herschenstein, is charged with the larceny of $8,920, which, it is alleged, he appropriated by substituting pennies for five cent pieces in coin bags intended for delivery to banks.

New York, July 22.—H. Clay Ford, resident manager of Ford's Opera House at the time President Lincoln was shot, died today in Passiac, N. J. Mr. Ford was associate manager with his brother, John T. Ford, in control of opera houses at Baltimore and Washington.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. John M. Harry, who are spending two weeks at Wrightsville Beach, will return home Saturday.—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brown have returned home from a week's stay at Wrightsville Beach.—Mrs. W. S. C. B. Robinson, Jr., and small son, W. S. C. B., 3rd, have returned home after spending some time with Mrs. Robinson's mother and sister, Mrs. Preston Bridgers, at their summer home at Wrightsville Beach.—Mrs. John B. Oates, who had expected to leave tomorrow for Wrightsville Beach, have given up their trip on account of the indisposition of Mrs. Oates' mother, Mrs. George Webb, at her home in Birmingham. As soon as Mrs. Webb's condition is improved she will possibly come to the mountains of this State.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bass Brown and children, who are spending two weeks at Wrightsville, will return home Saturday."

Tonight will be known as "Atlanta night" at Lumina. From 9:15 to 9:45 o'clock only Atlanta people will be allowed to dance and this will close with a grand march. Beautiful souvenirs will be given those taking part. Wrightsville Beach has always been very popular with Atlanta people and there are hundreds of people from the Georgia metropolis who visit this resort every summer. This year has proven no exception to the rule and there are a great many guests at the hotels and cottages from the Georgia city. Atlanta night last summer was a big success with one of the largest crowds of the season present and it is expected that the attendance tonight will be quite large. There will be the usual moving pictures, splendid music by the Don Richardson orchestra and singing of the Texas Quartette. These different features will serve to make it an evening of rare enjoyment and pleasure.

MISS LAMAR AND MR. LONG AWARDED PRIZES IN CONTEST

The one-step dancing contest at Lumina last evening was a great success and was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present. Miss Lamar, of Augusta, Ga., and Mr. Mebane Long, of Charlotte, were awarded the prize for being the best dancers, these being a beautiful parasol for the lady and a handsome cane for the gentleman. Consolation prizes of boxes of candy were given the other two couples in the final contest, these being Miss Louise Wise and Mr. Robert Davis and Miss Josephine Daniels, of Chapel Hill, and Mr. Albert Perry.

There were a large number of entries and it was not an easy matter for the judges to select the seven couples to compete in the contest. One of these couples requested that their names not be given. The other couples were Miss Louise Wise and Mr. Robert Davis; Miss Lamar, of Augusta, Ga., and Mr. Mebane Long, of Charlotte; Miss Julia Manning, of Raleigh, and Mr. William Fenley; Miss Mary Butler, of Atlanta, and Mr. George Clark; Miss Josephine Daniels, of Chapel Hill, and Mr. Albert Perry; Miss Leola Shannon, of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. W. F. Morrison.

The judges were Mrs. Brown, of Charlotte; Mrs. Frank H. Barrett, of Augusta, Ga., and Mr. Manghan, of Atlanta.

The large audience was liberal in its applause of favorite couples and the decision of the judges was also warmly applauded. The event was one of the most enjoyable of the summer.

ELDERS AND DEACONS' INSTITUTE ADJOURNS

Rev. A. W. Crawford and Others Heard Yesterday.

Ministers and Laymen Participate in Discussion of Personal Work—Dr. McClure Goes to Rocky Mount—Special Prayer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wallace, N. C., July 22.—The Elders' and Deacons' Institute of the Wilmington Presbytery was called to order at 9:30 o'clock this morning, this being the third day of the institute. Rev. L. E. Wells, of Teacheys, N. C., conducted the devotional exercises.

At the suggestion of the chairman, special prayer was offered by Dr. Wells for the Synodical Evangelist, Rev. William Black, Dr. O. G. Jones and Supt. W. T. Walker, who is very ill at the Synod's Orphan Home. Regrets were expressed on account of the inability of Rev. Mr. Black to attend the Institute and the tenderest sympathy was in the hearts of all for these brethren. A general discussion on personal work was participated in by many laymen and ministers. This part of the service was inspiring, solemn and impressive. After singing the Institute hymn, No. 19, Rev. A. W. Crawford, superintendent of Synodical Home Missions, spoke on the "Evangelistic Pastor, and the Advantage of Having Special Revival Services." Formerly the evangelistic pastor was in disfavor, but properly understood, his chief object is to win souls in his pastorate. He should be a social leaven, a Gospel propounder and in close touch with Christ. God speed the day, said he, when every pastor shall be an evangelistic pastor. In the discussion of the second part of the subject, he pointed out that in the Old Testament times the men attended these special meetings held every year.

In the New Testament times there seemed to be systematic evangelistic preaching. If all the agencies are active, the minister will be induced to hold protracted meetings at intervals. The modern evangelistic pastor will find that he can conduct the protracted services successfully. First of all he should do this; for if he does this he will have a hold and power over his people. The tie is strong and will last through life. The evangelistic power is yours, he declared, if you are called to preach. The evangelist should help the evangelistic pastor. Such a pastor will be a great assistance to other pastors. He urged pastors to do evangelistic work. The address was received with great pleasure. Special prayer was offered by the pastor for Mr. John E. Lamb, a devoted member of Wallace church, who is in extreme illness.

The next on the programme was Rev. Robert King, of Kernersville, the honored pastor of James Sprunt Institute, an evangelist, who is doing such a successful work in Eastern North Carolina. He graphically presented the deplorable physical condition and great spiritual needs in Eastern Carolina. He spoke from his observation and rich experience. His plea for the poor, the unfortunate and spiritually destitute was heartily responded to by the manifest interest of the large audience. Mr. King spoke again tonight on the "Sunday School as An Evangelistic Agency," and Rev. W. M. Shaw discussed the "True Object of the Sunday School."

This evening Rev. P. L. Clark, of Burgaw, conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. R. A. Lapsley, Jr., spoke on the "Field the World," and Dr. Wells on "Our Stewardship." The Institute closed tonight. Dr. A. D. McClure will go to Rocky Mount to conduct the Elders' and Deacons' Institute for the Albemarle Presbytery.

The Wednesday afternoon session of the Institute was opened and Rev. E. H. Carr, of Atkinson, conducted the devotional exercises. The subjects of the General Assembly's plans and needs were fully discussed by members of the Institute. Elder J. H. Moore, of Burgaw, led in the discussion of "How Can the Elders and Deacons Help the Midweek Prayer Meeting?" He said that in the Southern church there are 10,000 elders and 12,000 deacons, an army of picked men. In this Presbytery there are 190 elders and 189 deacons. There are about 5,000 members and about 4,000 in the Sunday schools; and thousands that have no church relations. The spiritual requirements are clearly taught, but when an inventory is taken these men confess that they are not doing their duty. The officer can bring into the prayer meeting a consistent Christian life, he can hold up his pastor's hands and make personal effort to save souls. (Billy Sunday gives a card to each convert and urges him to do something. It is said Spurgeon always gave a new convert some work to do). If the patriotic soldier will respond to the call of his country, much more should the soldiers of Christ respond to the call of the needy. The personal appeal to 379 officers in the Presbytery was presented very forcefully.

Mr. Sion Boney, an elder of Wallace church, discussed the question, "How Can the Officers be More Helpful to the Pastors?" Mr. Boney is a son of the late W. J. Boney, an honored elder of the Wallace church. By vote of the Institute, Mr. Boney's address will be published in the Presbyterian Standard. After announcements were made the Institute adjourned.

At the evening session a successful Christian Endeavor meeting was held in the interest of the society. An interesting address was delivered by William Cumming, Jr., of Wilmington. He gives promise of doing a great work for the church.

Dr. J. M. Wells, of Wilmington, delivered an inspiring address on "The Great Need of Spiritual Awakening." He first presented the church asleep and satisfied. It is asleep in its prayer life. Prayer is the fulcrum with

COTTON MARKET WAS QUIET

Advance of the Previous Day About Lost—Lower Cables and Favorable Weather Caused Decline.

New York, July 22.—The cotton market was quiet today with prices about losing yesterday's advance under scattered selling and closing steady at a net advance of 1 point on July, but generally 8 to 10 points lower.

Lower cables and the favorable weather map caused an opening decline of 3 to 4 points and active months sold 12 to 13 points under last night's closing figures during the early trading. At this decline October contracts here ruled about 137 points under October-November in Liverpool and the difference appeared with enough to bring in a considerable demand from straddlers. The market steadied in consequence and there was a little Wall street buying on a rally of six or seven points from the lowest during the middle of the day, but prices eased off again in the later trading under scattered offerings. Selling was by no means aggressive, however, and last prices were 2 or 3 points above the low level of the morning. The only rains of any importance in today's reports, were along the coast and were evidently of little benefit, but temperatures were generally lower. This naturally relieved any apprehension of immediate damage from heat and except for the drouthy sections in the southwest, conditions appeared to be generally considered favorable. Savannah reported the receipt of the new crop bale today.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Prices Broke About One Dollar Per Bale for July—Other Months Off.

New Orleans, July 22.—Good weather accounts from the belt, and notices for the delivery of about 1,000 bales on July contracts broke the cotton market today about one dollar a bale on July and about half that amount on the new crop months. July was inactive, but on the few transactions, the price lost 19 points with the closing bid 18 down. At their lowest the fall months were 12 to 13 points down and final bids were at a net decline of 8 to 9 points. The market opened at the decline, selling being stimulated by the favorable weather map. The selling wave was extended during the morning, and in the afternoon the market was steadier with something of a tendency to react. The tone on the close was steady.

STOCKS RELATIVELY NORMAL

War Specialties More Restrained and Prices Less Sensational but Were Most Conspicuous Features.

New York, July 22.—Relatively normal conditions prevailed in the stock market today. Trading in war specialties was more restrained and prices less sensational, but those issues were again the conspicuous features, with new high records for Baldwin Locomotive at 76 7-8, and Bethlehem Steel preferred at 124 1-8.

Temporary gains of 2 to 6 points were registered by other issues of this class. Westinghouse, yesterday's spectacular feature, led the list in point of activity, but failed to repeat its high record.

Railroad shares manifested increased heaviness and general irregularity, Canadian Pacific falling 4 to 138 1-8, its low price since 1904, and St. Paul declining to within a fraction of its minimum. Southern Pacific and Southern Railway preferred also felt the weight of continued pressure. Baltimore & Ohio was the only striking exception, advancing a point on publication of June earnings of $1,719,000.

Contrary to recent conditions, lowest prices were made in the final dealings, the railway group then showing greatest weakness. All forms of foreign exchange were weaker.

The local bond market was steady, with a further reduction of foreign offerings. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,535,000. United States registered 2s advanced 1-2 per cent on call.

PURCHASE OF BELGIUM BY U. S. SUGGESTED

In Address Delivered by John Wannamaker.

Proposed That Business Men Loan Government Money to Make the Purchase—Advocates High Import and Export Duties.

Philadelphia, July 22.—The Purchase of Belgium from Germany by the United States and the imposition of high duties on imports and exports by this country were among the suggestions made by John Wanamaker in an address here tonight at a meeting at which prominent business and professional men formed a local branch of the National Security League.

Mr. Wanamaker, who was later elected president of the organization, said it is the duty of the business men of this country to do all in their power to restore normal conditions in Europe and proposed that a hundred billion dollars be loaned without interest to the government for the purchase of Belgium. He suggested that later the government of that country could be tured over to its own people. Mr. Wanamaker declared that the United States had made its first mistake when it had failed to protect against the violation of the neutrality of Belgium.

Upon the formation of the local branch of the league, a resolution expressing confidence that the President of the United States "will find an honorable and if possible, a peaceful solution of the grave problem with which we are confronted and that we join in pledging him our loyal support in any course which may prove to be necessary in order to preserve our national ideals and vindicate our national honor," was adopted unanimously.

ration of the war. Even if the prediction of Germany's enemies that the war will be of long duration should prove true, the copper now in private use could be replaced easily with other materials. Statistics show that the amount of copper used in roofs, pots, plates and boilers is more than 2,000,000 tons, which is sufficient to continue the war for many years.

"According to a newspaper dispatch from Russian headquarters which was passed by the censor, the Russian armies have lost 15,000 machine guns."

VESSELS SET ON FIRE.

German Submarines Start Blazes on Swedish and Norwegian Barks.

London, July 22.—The Swedish bark Capella and the Norwegian bark Nordlyset, both timber laden and bound for England, have been set on fire in the North Sea by German submarines. The crew of the Capella was landed at Hull and that of the Nordlyset at Fredrickshaven.

BRITISH ROUT TURKS.

Official Report Says Town on Euphrates Has Been Occupied.

London, July 22.—The British have occupied Sukesh-Sheyukh on the Euphrates river in Arabia, according to an official report issued today, and are now attacking the Turks, who have taken up a position below Nasiriyeh.

Reports of British defeats in Irak are declared to be unfounded.

Irak, Arabia lies mostly between the lower courses of the Tigris and the Euphrates and includes the city of Bagdad.

Russian Retreat Claimed.

Berlin, July 22 (via London).—The war office announced today that the Austro-German forces which are driving at Warsaw from the south had compelled the Russians to retreat into the fortress of Ivangorod, about 56 miles southeast of the Polish capital. The fortress is now closely invested.

Connor, of the American Methodist Episcopal church, tonight was burned ineffigy by several hundred negroes at the conclusion of a mass meeting. REPORT IS DENIED

No Fires on Dreadnought New York and Destroyer Warrington.

Washington, July 22.—On a report from Rear Admiral Usher, commanding the New York navy yard, the Navy Department today denied that there had been small fires on the dreadnought New York and the destroyer Warrington, as had been reported. No additional report on the fire in the dreadnought Oklahoma at Camden, N. J., has been received and the department believed completion of the ship will not be delayed more than a week.

500 MORE CLYDE AND MALLORY MEN STRIKE

About 1,400 'Longshoremen Now Idle on River Front.

Strike May Spread to Other Lines—Officers Say Men Did Not Apply for Increase in Wages—There Has Been No Disorder.

New York, July 22.—The ranks of the striking longshoremen on the piers of the Clyde and Mallory lines were increased today by about 500 men, making about 1,400 men idle on the North River water front.

Strike leaders said today efforts would be made to call out longshoremen employed by other lines. In that event, there might be a serious delay in the shipment from this port of foodstuffs and war supplies to Europe.

Officials of the two lines at present involved said today business at their piers was going on practically as usual. H. H. Raymond, president of the Clyde Steamship Company, said that before going out the men had made no demands for increased wages and that they had done so only informally since. He said that the company would refuse to treat with the men until they came back to work.

There has been no disorder.

CANADA IS NOT BEING DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

Complaint Was Made That it Was Not Getting Share of War Orders.

London, July 23 (3 a. m.)—Referring to Canadian reports that the Imperial authorities in placing war orders are discriminating against Canada, The Times says it understands there is no grounds for such apprehension. The newspaper adds that David Lloyd-George, the munitions minister, is to discuss the whole question of munitions with Sir Robert L. Borden, the Canadian Premier, and there is every reason to suppose Canada will get all the orders that can possibly be put in her way.

The supposition that David A. Thomas, representing the British munitions department in the United States, is placing orders through American middlemen, is unfounded, according to The Times, which says Mr. Thomas is in a position to deal independently of J. P. Morgan & Co., and tha t he is doing so.

MORGANTON AMATEUR CLUB SIGNS PROFESSIONAL PLAYER.

Baker, Former Philadelphia American, Will Play Third Base.

Asheville, N. C., July 22.—J. Frank Baker, former third baseman for the Philadelphia team in the American League, has been signed to play third base for Morganton, N. C., in the Western North Carolina League, according to a special dispatch from Morganton to The Citizen tonight. Baker is to receive a salary of $50 a day for the remainder of the season.

The Western North Carolina League is a semi-professional organization. The Morganton club is supported by A. M. Kistler, a wealthy leather manufacturer.

MANY SUGGESTIONS MADE.

Federal Trade Commission in Hearing at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 22.—Improved banking facilities in foreign lands; a larger merchant marine, more advantageous railroad rates to tidewater for shipment to foreign countries; legalizing of pools and combinations of American firms for developing foreign business, and maintaining foreign trade prices were some of the many suggestions made here today by Cincinnati business men to the Federal Trade Commission.

The Commission left tonight for Indianapolis, where the next hearing will be held.

MARY MAGDALENE TO STAND IN DOCKET ALONE NO LONGER

Others Particeps Criminis With Her Says Louisville Divine.

San Francisco, July 21.—"For ages it has been established custom to place Mary Magdalene in the docket when the Social Evil was on trial," said the Rev. John F. Stilli, of Louisville, Ky., to the International Purity Congress here today, "but today we are beginning to demand that she shall stand in the docket no longer alone."

Although the evil is ancient, it was being met, he said, with a new indignation, a new indictment, and a new faith. "Tomorrow, when the new day is here, the dawn of which even now embraces the horizon, we shall place not alone Mary Magdalene, not alone the male prostitute to the docket—no, we shall put on trial with them—as particeps criminis to the Magdalene's downfall—the judge, the jury, the state, the school, industry, the church, society. And the purpose thereof shall be not to condemn, but to redeem.

"We must sit once more at the feet of the Master of Men. He would say to us as he said to the men on that vice commission of Jerusalem: 'Let her alone—look to yourselves. You are particeps criminis.'

"Two thousand years ago he wrote that indictment in the sand, but the Eternal preserved it, and today we discover it chiseled in the granite of our modern life.

"The Social Evil is not a thing in itself. It is but a link in a chain, forged in the fire of social mal-adjustment. It is but a part of the out-of-plumbness of our entire social order. Any attempt at adjustment which does not embody a programme that reaches down to the very mudsills of society must necessarily fail.

"Men and women hold up their hands in horror at the vast number who plunge into the depths of prostitution annually: I say to you we ought to marvel that there are so few!

"I grant that modern dress or rather undress, the dancehall, the wine room and the joy ride facilitate the plunge into the abyss. But I say to you that we are merely playing at social reform when we agitate and legislate against these, while we parmit a social order which places a premium on prostitution by forcing practically every working girl to live on the very brink of the abyss, to go unchallenged."

Washington, July 22.—Ira Nelson Morris, American minister to Sweden, had a brief conference with President Wilson today and then went to Chicago to undergo a surgical operation before returning to his post at Stockholm. It was understood he gave the President the view of the Scandinavian capital toward the war but he refused to discuss his call.

HIGH COST OF WARRING EMPHASIZED IN REPORT

Of Registrar General Sons of American Revolution.

America's Revolutionary War Expenses for a Year Little More Than Great Britain's for a Day at Present.

Portland, Ore., July 22.—The high cost of warring, when the campaigns of Washington are compared to the European conflict, was emphasized in the report of the registrar general of the Sons of the American Revolution at the first day's session of the society's 26th annual convention here.

Thomas Jefferson, he said, reviewing the finances of the Revolution, estimated the cost of the war at an average of $17,500,000 a year. That sum now is scarcely more than Great Britain's war cost for a single day. The total cost of the Revolution—approximately $140,000,000 covering a period of eight years—is less than the total cost of the European war for a month.

The committee on information of aliens reported great activity during the last year in promoting the education of the alien population to the advantages of American citizenship. With various societies and municipalities, the society has co-operated in establishing courses in civil government and other subjects tending to the enlightenment of those of foreign birth. The committee pointed out that of the three million souls which peopled the 13 colonies, one-fifth could not speak English, one-half was of other than Anglo-Saxon descent, and even now in some of the states the proportion of foreign born is as great as 30 per cent.

Detailed efforts to educate aliens to the allegiance and obligations of American citizenship were described. Personal letters have been sent to more than 1,500 judges of Federal and state courts having jurisdiction over naturalization, urging that the ceremony of administering the oath of allegiance be made a solemn and impressive one. It is suggested that on such occasions the presiding judge or some citizen of high standing in the community address the prospective citizens upon the importance of the act of transferring allegiance from one nation to another and the obligations which accompany it. The committee expressly recommended the promotion of such meetings as that held in Philadelphia on May 10, last, when President Wilson addressed several thousand recently naturalized Americans and welcomed them to the privileges of American institutions.

Much ignorance, the committee reported, had been found among school children, and even adults, regarding the Constitution of the United States. In many parts of the country it was found that fundamental document was not for sale in ready form. The society recently has distributed 100,000 copies to night schools and settlements of aliens.

While much of a statistical nature has been preserved and handed down relating to the Continental armies, the little Navy which carried the newest flag to the seven seas has not fared so well. A careful study has been conducted, however, for the committee on military and naval records, by Rear Admiral Chester, and his researches, reported by the committee, show there were in the regular Continental navy 64 vessels mounting 1,242 guns, while the volunteer private armed fleet outnumbered it with 1,250 vessels and 18,000 guns. British vessels to the number of 797 were captured and with their cargoes, were valued at $24,000,000. The American navy mustered then about 70,000 men, a majority of the names of those heroes were not left for posterity. The navy won 70 per cent of its engagements; the army won 40. Researches are being prosecuted in state archives and collections of historical societies as well as private collections of manuscripts to make as complete as practicable a publication by the government of the Continental army and navy muster roll. More than 30,000 records have been found so far chiefly in Massachusetts, Virginia and North Carolina.

CONFERENCE FORMALLY OPENED

Most Prosperous Sunday School Year in History of Methodists.

Asheville, N. C., July 22.—The Sunday school conference of the Southern Methodist church at Lake Junaluska was formerly opened today with Bishop James Atkins, of Waynesville, presiding. Dr. Charles D. Bulla, of Nashville, corresponding secretary, in making his report to the conference declared that the year 1914 was the most successful Sunday school year in the history of the Southern Methodist church. Within the jurisdiction of the church, "here are 16,868 Sunday schools, 140,575 officers and teachers, with 1,584,834 pupils, making a total enrollment of 1,725,409. The total increase over the year 1913 is 95,718.

which the world is moved. It is asleep in the study of the Bible. The Sunday school does a great work, but many Christians do not study God's word. It is asleep as to soul winning. There is evidence of this manifested in the indifference of Christians. In the Synod of North Carolina it took 18 Christians to win one soul to Christ, and 10 in Wilmington Presbytery to win one. He urged Christians to do personal work, for three out of ten are out of the church. He warned against the use of diluted Gospel. The pure Gospel must be preached. The church which is shot through and through with worldliness cannot do the work. It needs the transforming influence of the spirit. It needs a vision of the lost condition of the unsaved. It needs to awake to the newness of the love of Christ. "In conclusion I wish," said he, "to say this, God is calling to the church to awake. What is the matter with the countries of Europe? They have not heard the call. He will awake the people in America in his wrath if we do not hear His call and repent." The address made a deep impression and afterward the large audience with bowed heads, was led in a short prayer by several members of the Institute.

BECKER'S LAWYERS ARE NOT YET DISCOURAGED

Working to Corroborate Condemned Man's Statement

Making Effort to Get Witnesses Regarding Fund Raised Among Gamblers to Induce Rosenthal to Leave City.

New York, July 22.—The lawyers of Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant sentenced to die next Wednesday for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, while disappointed at Governor Whitman's announcement that Becker's recent appeal to him contains nothing that would cause him to change his judgment, are not discouraged.

They held lengthy conferences today, and had visitors who might have information that would be helpful in their efforts toward getting corroborative witnesses to Becker's statement regarding the $6,000 fund said to have been collected from East Side and Harlem gamblers by one of the chief witnesses against Becker for the purpose of inducing Rosenthal to leave the city. Should such witnesses be secured, Becker's lawyers say, an important point will be gained for the condemned man.

Jack Rose, chief witness against Becker at the murder trials, insisted in a statement today that he had told the truth on the witness stand. He said his life had been threatened.

GERMAN WORKERS GIVEN AN OFFICIAL WARNING

Subject to Imprisonment if They Help Make Supplies for Enemy.

Berlin, July 22 (by Wireless, via Sayville).—An official declaration is published here calling attention to the fact that "Germans working in factories in neutral countries particularly in the United States producing war supplies for the enemy render themselves liable prosecution for treason, under paragraph 89 of th penal code, penalizing such assistance to an enemy with a maximum of ten years' imprisonment."

Another paragraph of the penal code authorizes prosecution in the cases of such offenses, even when committed abroad, and it is understood that the German courts will proceed against offenders.

LOST BOTH HANDS ON NORTHERN EXPEDITION

Naturalist of Smithsonian Institution Suffered From Freezing.

Nome, Alaska, July 22.—Jonathan Korean, a Norwegian naturalist in the Arctic for the Smithsonian Institute, suffered the loss of both hands by freezing last winter, while his expedition was fast in the ice in Kolyma river, Siberia. This news was brought by the steamer Corwin, arriving here today.

The Corwin also reported the Russian steamer Klomia's crew suffering from scurvia, from which the engineer and second assistant engineer had died.

Washington, July 22.—Former representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, whom President Wilson appointed last spring as a judge of the United States court of claims, has decided not to accept the position. Mr. Palmer had a conference with the President today. He has been mentioned as a possible successor to Secretary Lansing, as counsellor of the State Department, but it was said tonight the President had reached no decision on this question.
